

Dear colleagues,

With this 18th issue of our Newsletter we open the call for the next PhD Thesis Presentation Contest 2019, draw your attention to the White Paper and provide you with a digest of the latest news and selected funding opportunities related to academic cooperation with Ukraine.

With kind regards,

Dr. Oksana Seumenicht

Managing Director, the German-Ukrainian Academic Society/ Research Development Manager, MDC, Berlin

Professor Olga Garaschuk

President, the German-Ukrainian Academic Society/ Chair of the Department of Neurophysiology, Eberhard Karls University of Tübingen

Шановні колеги,

У цьому 18-му числі ми оголошуємо конкурс доповідей аспірантів 2019, документ „Перспективи розвитку науки в Україні з погляду представників української наукової діаспори“ та хочемо привернути Вашу увагу до деяких цікавих новин та актуальних грантових пропозицій, пов'язаних з науковою співпрацею з Україною.

З найкращими побажаннями,

Sehr geehrte Kolleginnen und Kollegen,

Mit dieser 18. Ausgabe wir kündigen den Doktoranden-Vortragswettbewerb 2019 an, berichten über eine „White Paper“ sowie, wie immer, Ihnen die Hinweise zu aktuellen Fördermöglichkeiten und Veranstaltungen, die sich auf die akademische Zusammenarbeit mit der Ukraine beziehen, zukommen lassen.

Mit freundlichen Grüßen,

WHITE PAPER: “Way forward for science in Ukraine: a perspective of the Ukrainian research diaspora”

The Forum of the Ukrainian Research Diaspora, was held in Kyiv on 20-22 October 2018. An initiative group of diaspora researchers developed a White Paper with the aim of summarizing key points brought up in various discussions during the Forum, as well as in the follow-up feedback provided by numerous participants (28 written replies to the survey). The main message (also formulated in the Resolution adopted at the Forum) is that many representatives of the Ukrainian research diaspora and Ukrainian researchers working abroad are strongly committed to both galvanizing the required changes and contributing their hands-on knowledge and profound experience, gained at leading research organizations in different countries, to the benefit of Ukraine. The White Paper is structured along the topics discussed at the round-table/panel discussions held at the Forum, with a particular focus on (i) Converting “brain drain” into “brain gain”, and (ii) Creation of expert commissions to support science reform in Ukraine. The authors are very grateful to Prof. Vira Troyan (NGO “Women in Science”, Ukraine) for her help with the translation of this document into Ukrainian. <http://ukrainet.eu/2019/03/01/df18-white-paper/>

MAJOR EVENTS

In a special issue of this Newsletter (No 16, November 2018) we reported about a fruitful German-Ukrainian collaborative project dealing with the provenience research related to a unique historical document – the Charter issued by the Moscow’s tsar Peter I in 1708, which confirmed Ioasaph Krokovskyi (1650-es – 1718) as metropolitan of Kyiv. In addition to the summary of the research we have included an insightful historical commentary (both in English and Ukrainian) allowing to place the document, around which this research is centered, into a broader historical context. We are now very pleased to report that this document has been officially given back to H.E. the ambassador of Ukraine in Germany Dr. Andrij Melnyk on the 14th of March, and returned to Ukraine on the 13th of April 2019. It is now planned to be transferred to the Institute of the V.I. Vernadsky National Library in Kyiv.

Ukrainian-German Cores of Excellence

Ukraine and Germany are planning to establish new joint centres for advanced research in Ukraine. This has been discussed at the 12th meeting of the Ukrainian-German Working Group on Science and Technology Cooperation in January 2019. It is anticipated that Ukrainian partners will collaborate with leading German universities, research institutes and companies. This initiative will be funded by the Federal Ministry of Education and Research of Germany (BMBF).

COOPERATION HIGHLIGHTS

Pilot project for the sustainable internationalization of Ukrainian research structures in the context of the globalization of the Ukrainian food sector (UaFoodTrade)

This project is funded by the Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF, 15.11.2017 - 30.11.2020) and is led by the Leibniz Institute of Agricultural Development in Transition Economies (IAMO, Dr. Oleksandr Perekhozhuk). The primary goal of the UaFoodTrade project is the further development and stronger internationalization of the research and education landscape in Ukraine, in particular in field of agricultural and food economies. To start with a joint research group will be created as the core of the project, which will deal with questions of embedding the Ukrainian food economy into regional and international markets. In addition, capacity building actions will be carried out at the Kyiv School of Economics (KSE) in Kyiv, Ukraine. These will include summer schools, various seminars and workshops, open to students and teachers from other Ukrainian research institutions and universities. The KSE project office will organize further specific research activities and capacity building actions. Moreover, it is planned to establish a chair for "International Agricultural and Food Economy" at KSE with additional funding. In a longer-term, it is anticipated that a research center will be created on the basis of this chair and as a direct result of the project activities.

Prof. Michael Grings (Martin Luther University Halle-Wittenberg) conducted the summer school on "Household Behaviour: Theory and Applications" at the KSE in October 2018.

Summer school with Professor Michael Grings and PhD students in Kiev, Ukraine © IAMO

The aim was to impart advanced knowledge in the field of food demand analysis and to provide an introduction to the joint modelling of production, labour input and demand decisions of agricultural households. The analysis of the economic decisions of agricultural households is of particular importance with regard to Ukraine, where a large part of agricultural production still takes place in private households. 11 participants came from the Kyiv School of Economics (KSE), the National University of Life and Environmental Sciences of Ukraine (NUBiP), Poltava State Agrarian Academy, Tavria State Agrotechnological University, Vinnitsa National Agrarian University and a research institute - National Science Centre "Institute of Agricultural Economics" in Kyiv.

NEWS FROM UKRAINE

National Research Foundation of Ukraine (NRFU): Call for International Referees

The newly established National Research Foundation of Ukraine (NRFU) is going to be the largest science funding body in Ukraine open for all researchers, independent of their affiliations. Now the NRFU invites expressions of interest from international scientists interested to act as potential expert referees. Currently, NRFU is undergoing an organizational phase and is expected to become operational in the second half of 2019. Up to now, it has been typical for the Ukrainian practice of evaluating research proposals that only internal (Ukrainian) reviewers were involved. NRFU intends to use the best practices of involving international experts in the evaluation procedures, and needs to build up a database of International Referees from scratch. After the start of NRFU operation, there will be very little time left in 2019 to organize the call for projects and process the applications. Thus, the Supervisory Board would like to start the process of forming the pool of potential Referees in advance.

Ukrainian-Bulgarian Center opened in Kharkiv

The Ukrainian-Bulgarian Center was opened on the basis of the Kuznets Kharkiv National Economic University to support joint research, conferences, seminars and educational projects. The next plans of the Center include courses on Bulgarian language, culture, traditions and creativity. Students and researchers will be able to go abroad for internships and practical stays.

Czech Republic Supports Ukrainian Educational System

The Czech Republic supports the modernization of the Ukrainian educational system with EUR 1,2 million. The funds are aimed to be spent on technical support of the reforms process, strengthening the inter-university cooperation between Ukraine and Czech Republic and as a targeted assistance to the 'exile universities', i.e. the educational institutions with internally displaced students and teachers. This is a continuation of the support: in 2015-2018 the government of the Czech Republic provided EUR 1,5 million.

Ukrainian PEN announced the names of the winners of the Kharkiv Literary Residence of 2019

The Kharkiv Literary Residence was established in 2018 to support writers, as well as to promote Kharkiv and its culture, in Ukraine and the world. Writers - participants of the residency - are welcome to spend 1 month in Kharkiv to work on their writings, as well as get to know the city - its history, culture and people. The first four planned awards – for spring, summer, autumn and winter - are aimed at two Ukrainian prose writers, a Ukrainian translator and a foreign writer. Among the winners is the German writer Michael Zeller, who first came to Kharkiv in 1994. He plans to use his stay to write a series of stories for his third book of short stories.

OTHER NEWS AND EVENTS' REPORTS

FRANKFURT/ ODER, European University Viadrina, Summer Semester: Seminar „Major Works of Ukrainian Literature 20-21 century/ Hauptwerke ukrainischer Literatur 20. Und 21. Jh.“

In this course important works of Ukrainian authors will be discussed, complemented by the basic information on the author, the work-biographical and literary-historical context, history of origin and text, reception and socio-cultural contexts, etc. A particular focus will be on contemporary literature, i.e. on works that have been created since the 1990s. Specific literary directions (e.g., modern postmodernism), genres (e.g., pop literature), and thematic emphases (e.g., cultural / collective memory texts, gender issues, Chernobyl, or war) will be discussed. The combination of a literary-historical and cultural-scientific perspective is intended to convey a broad understanding of literature and its significance in the culture and society of Ukraine. Alexander Kratochvil (Dr. phil.), slavist and literary translator, currently works at the Institute of Czech Literature, Czech Academy of Sciences Prague.

Darüber hinaus wurden in State-of-the-art-Vorträgen die neuesten Entwicklungen in Diagnostik, Therapie und Prävention präsentiert und diskutiert.*

BERLIN, 14 March 2019: Lecture “The Crimean toponymy in Ukraine: living evidence of the centuries-old interactions between Crimea and the mainland Ukraine”

This lecture was organized within the “Science first hand” Series. The Crimean Tatars, the Crimean Karaites, the Krymchaks and the Urums are indigenous peoples of Ukraine. Throughout the hundreds of years these peoples populated south regions of Ukraine, including Crimea. In the past centuries many of them – often forcefully and violently – were resettled or deported (after the Russian empire seized these territories in XVIII century or in 1944, when almost 200 thousand Crimean Tatars were deported in just 2 days). However, many current placenames (toponyms) all over the south and even central Ukraine preserved the memory of these historic encounters between numerous ethnicities that have been populating Ukraine for long time. Roman Alieiev, engineer at the Research department of MAN Truck & Bus AG and PhD student at the Technical University of Braunschweig, developed a strong interest to these toponyms and developed a digital map, which includes names of settlements, buildings, rivers, linguistic origins of which could be connected to the languages of these peoples. In his talk he presented some insights into the complicated history of the region and reflected on how the change of geographical names (gradual and adaptive or instant and foreign) could tell us more about the nature of interactions between different peoples.

Individual Funding/ Fellowships

GERMANY, “Green Talents” Competition, apply by 22 May 2019

Every year, the German Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF) hosts the prestigious 2-week “Green Talents – International Forum for High Potentials in Sustainable Development” to promote the international exchange of innovative green ideas. With this year’s special focus on the question of how digitalisation can promote more sustainability in science and our societies, the motto of the 2019 competition is “Smart Green Planet – Solutions for a Sustainable Future”. However, applications from all disciplines are highly welcome and the research does not need to have a direct link to digitalisation. A successful Green Talent 2019 will receive:

- an invitation to the fully funded two-week Green Talents Science Forum 2019, consisting of
  - visits to leading German sustainability facilities, institutions and companies with exclusive insights into their pioneering research and projects,
  - individual appointments with German experts of your choosing to discuss possibilities for upcoming joint research and cooperation efforts,
  - networking opportunities at the 10-year-anniversary Green Talents alumni conference in Berlin with key representatives of the German sustainability landscape,
- a fully funded research stay of up to 3 months at an institution of your own choice in Germany in 2020,
- exclusive access for you to the prestigious Green Talents alumni network.

GERMANY, Berlin: Einstein Guest Professorships and Einstein Junior Scholarships to foster academic freedom

The Einstein Foundation is committed to fostering academic freedom. Two special programs (Einstein Guest Professorships and Einstein Junior Scholarships) are offered temporary in order to reach this objective and to enable researchers who are experiencing constraints in their work around the world to come to Berlin for two years to pursue their research without undue restrictions or threats. First and foremost, the programs are intended to support top researchers from regions of conflict. Furthermore, they are directed at researchers from regions that experience subtle or direct restrictions of research, and who look for opportunities to return, migrate or cooperate with countries offering a work environment free of constraints.
