A sad news reached us: mathematician Dr. Vitalii Makogin, a long-standing member of the German-Ukrainian Academic Society, unexpectedly passed away on 8 May 2024.

Vitalii was not only passionate about his research, but also cared strongly about Ukrainian culture and the history of German-Ukrainian relations.

anlässlich des 100. Todesjahres Ernst von Sterns

Mi., 06. – Fr., 08. November 2024

Die Tagung ist dem Altertumswissenschaftler und zweimaligen Rektor der Vereinigten Friedrichs-Universität Halle-Wittenberg Ernst von Stern anlässlich seines 100. Todesjahres gewidmet, dessen große wissenschaftliche Bedeutung für die Hallesche Forschungslandschaft erstmals in einem geographisch wie disziplinär grenzüberschreitenden Diskurs umfassend und kritisch gewürdigt werden soll. Auf Einladung des ZAKS e.V. werden internationale Fachvertreter/innen der Altertumswissenschaften, der Kunstgeschichte sowie verschiedener wissenschaftlicher Archive gemeinsam das Leben und Wirken dieser Forscherpersönlichkeit beleuchten, die sich auf vielfältige Weise um Halle als bedeutenden Wissenschaftsstandort verdient gemacht hat.

II INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE “OPEN SCIENCE AND INNOVATION IN UKRAINE”

Kyiv, Ukraine; Hannover (hybrid), 26. – 27. October 2023

DUAG COOPERATION PARTNER

- Aim: to stimulate dialogue among stakeholders of the scientific community to discuss practical aspects of implementing the principles of open science and innovation in Ukraine, explore viable solutions to address pressing issues (e.g. uninterrupted access to research infrastructure, and free access to full-text scholarly publications)
- Event targeted at researchers, scientists, science communicators and IT specialists; over 80 conference abstracts contributors
- Nataliya Butych presented the DUAG on 26th of October 2023

Open Science and Innovation in Ukraine 2023 \(dntb.gov.ua\)

DUAG is a cooperation partner of the DAAD-funded project in the programme line „Support for the internationalisation of Ukrainian HEI – continuing education programmes for administrators”

The project „Management of Internationalisation and German-Ukrainian Academic Cooperation 2020-2024”/Moi Ukraine led by Leibniz University Hannover (2020-2024). Its key objective is to qualify staff of Ukrainian universities (either International Office staff or higher education managers/scientists responsible for international activities) to foster internationalisation and networking on national and international level. The project facilitated the establishment of NGO “Professional Network of Research and HE Managers in Ukraine (PNRM Ukraine)” and its cooperation with the German Network “Netzwerk Wissenschaftsmanagement e.V”

RECLAIMING EUROPE

Reclaiming Europe

Europe has been constantly reimagined – yet in facing the criminal and destructive war against Ukraine and all the tragedies resulting from it, the need for a more comprehensive rethink toward a more open-minded and future-oriented cultural imaginary of Europe has become obvious. The Russian war of aggression has revealed the extent to which the existing expertise on countries so often bundled together under the misleading label “Eastern Europe” has been neglected and marginalised. Across Europe in general, but especially in Germany and its western neighbours, relevant research institutes have too often been closed and down-sized.

The countries in question are not “the East”. They lie in the north, south and centre of Europe and all of them belong to the core of the European landscape. Their complex histories are full of entanglements. Yet each history has unique characteristics – resulting in a rich diversity of cultures, academic systems, politics and the perspectives of the respective inhabitants.

Schurken nicht bestreicheln

Ukraine Gegen Kriegsmüdigkeit: Chris Kühn und Gäste wie Anton Hofreiter fordern weiterhin Solidarität und Unterstützung.

Tübingen. Der Westspitze-Saal war gut gefüllt - und dass dies Chris Kühn freute, ist diesmal mehr als eine Politiker-Binse. Denn es bestärkte ihn in seinem Anliegen: Die Solidarität mit der Ukraine aufrecht zu halten. Die sieht er bedrohlich schwinden. „Es wird zu wenig über diesen Krieg gesprochen.“ Er sehe mit großer Sorge eine Müdigkeit in der deutschen Debatte, „in der die Unterstützung für die Ukraine nachlässt“.

Deshalb hatte der Bundestagsabgeordnete der Grünen auf Mittwochabend in die Westspitze geladen. Und Gäste mitgebracht wie die Neurowissenschaftlerin Olga Garaschuk. Sie ist auch eine Netzwerkerin für die Ukraine und hatte nach der russischen Invasion mit Chris Kühn Kontakt. „Dieses Tele-

Sie erinnerte an den Holocaust, den von Stalin initiierten Hungertod von Millionen Ukrainern. Die hatten sich zehn Jahre vorher nach einer kurzen Unabhängigkeit der Sowjetunion gebeugt. Am Ende blieb die Erkenntnis: „Diejenigen, die 1922 den Kampf um die Unabhängigkeit aufgegeben haben, haben 1932 ihre eigenen Kinder gegessen. Deshalb werden wir nicht aufgeben“, sagt Olga Garaschuk. „Wir haben alles schon einmal durchgemacht.“ Deshalb sei dieses Mal der Widerstandswillen so groß: „So weit ich ben, mit dem Ruf nach einem Ende der Waffenlieferungen täten sie etwas für den Frieden. „Tragischerweise machen sie das Gegenteil.“

Weil so Putin „fest daran glaubt, dass der vermeintliche Westen auf Dauer keine Chance hat, durchzuhalten“. Und weil er deshalb an seinem Kampf gegen das westliche Gesellschaftsmodell festhalte. Was die Ukraine verteidige: „Die Ukrainer sind bereit, in den Krieg zu ziehen, weil sie sicherstellen wollen, dass sie in Zukunft in einer europäischen Demokratie leben. Das Kämpfen und Sterben machen ge-

The projects such as a MHH learning module for rehabilitation after amputation (RehAmpTT) were introduced. The RehAmpTT supports people with amputations, their relatives and medical professionals during the rehabilitation process. This tool is available free of charge in Ukrainian and German language. Besides, the AURORA project of the BG clinics was presented. It provides Ukrainian physicians with the opportunity to come for an exchange in the various rehabilitation areas of the BG clinics, such as physiotherapy and others.

Project SaveScienceUA – supports scientists of Ukraine in their scientific activities in the conditions of the ongoing war, founded by a German volunteer organization München Hilft Ukraine e.V. \(MHU\) and the Ukrainian Scholar Support Office \(USSO\), coordinated by Liudmyla Lisova PhD, DUAG member. Project activities:

- March 2023 – pilot project among scientists in the Kharkiv region, the largest educational and scientific center in Ukraine under constant bombardment and destruction since February 2022. An application form has been developed and an announcement about the launch of the project has been posted on information resources;
- April - June 2023 – collection of applications from scientists (287 applications from scientists from 37 institutions in Kharkiv), their analysis and ranking;
- May 2023 – presentation of the project at the event of the YSC under the Kharkiv State Administration - "KhScience Week Youth 2023" (Ukraine);
- July 2023 – development and launch of the project page on the MHU website. Start of activities to share information about the project with the international community and communicate with potential donors;
- August 2023 - publication of an article in the German magazine 1E9 "Die Aktion SaveScienceUA bittet um Technik-Spenden für Wissenschaftler in der Ukraine,,;
- August 2023 – the first large donation - about 50 computers and laptops from Ariane Group
- November 2023 - the first batch of aid with laptops and PCs for more than 100 scientists
- since December 2024 - further communications, collection and preparation of the second batch of aid, search for new partners

Thanks to everyone who participated in the organization of the project, donated and continues to donate.

Ukrainische Geschichte und Gegenwart: zwischen Kolonialisierung und Selbstbestimmung

Ukrainische Kulturtage Hannover

Im Rahmen der ukrainischen Kulturtage blicken wir am 28.08. auf die ukrainische Geschichte und ihren bis heute wirksamen Strukturen. Gemeinsam mit der Sozialwissenschaftlerin Dr. Tetiana Havlin und dem Historiker Dr. Yaroslav Zhuravlov sprechen wir über den Einfluss des russischen Kolonialismus und den Bestrebungen nach Selbstbestimmung in der Ukraine. Im Anschluss an das Podiumsgespräch führen wir die Diskussion im Café nebenan weiter.
